

HARVARD LIBRARY

The Jacob Pat Memorial Lecture

Co-sponsored by the CENTER FOR JEWISH STUDIES, HARVARD UNIVERSITY

Yiddish, Translation, and a World Literature To-Come

by
Saul Noam Zaritt

Assistant Professor of Yiddish Literature in the Departments of Comparative Literature and Near Eastern Languages and Civilizations, Harvard University

Lamont Library Forum Room
Harvard Yard
Cambridge, Massachusetts

Wednesday
November 16, 2016
4:30 P.M.

A project of The Jacob and Frieda Pat Endowment in the Harvard College Library and the Abraham and Rachel Bornstein Fund in the Center for Jewish Studies

For information, call Elizabeth Vernon, Judaica Division, 617-495-2985